DAYLILIES EXCLUSIVELY

— F O R E W O R D —

This year again we are happy to send out this little catalog to our many friends and prospective customers.

During this past season we have indeed been fortunate.

Weather conditions were ideal. Today our fields are literally bursting with the best plants ever. Because of this we have been able to reduce prices on many varieties, some as much as one dollar.

Daylilies will thrive in all types of soil from sand to clay, producing a wealth of bloom, with minimum attention. They even stand long periods of neglect and reward the gardener when well cared for.

As daylilies are regional performers it is wise to consult growers or your local garden club as to which varieties do best in your particular section.

Remember most daylilies are hardy, disease and insect resistant and will give more satisfaction for your investment than any other perennial we know.

Thanking you for your patronage and kindness in recommending us to others, we remain:

Sincerely,

Rainbow Daylily Gardens.

PLANTING & CARE

Plant either in full sun or where they will receive about six hours of sun daily. Reds & some of the other deep colors are best planted where they receive some protection from the hot sun, such as on the East or North Side of shrubbery borders. High drifting shade is fine but avoid planting in those densely shaded areas.

Space plants about two ft. apart. Spread out roots and set to a depth so that ground level will be one inch above point where roots and foliage meet.

Mix a handful of bone meal and one or two of sheep manure into the soil for each plant when setting. Compost is excellent incorporated into the soil. Do not over fertilize. Water well until established. If planted in hot weather a wise precaution is to shade plant until growth starts.

HARDINESS

Nearly all varieties are hardy from Canada to Cuba. Some have asked if daylilies grown in Florida are hardy in the North? "Yes, they are," as hardiness is inherent in the variety and does not depend upon where it is grown.

TOP QUALITY PLANTS

Our plants are strong and vigorous. They are properly grown and not "blown up" with irrigation and strong fertilizer.

We shall as in the past send out quality plants that are full of vigor. Plants that will live & grow and give satisfaction.

RECURRENT BLOOMERS

Most all varieties we list bloom several times yearly here in the South and many will repeat in the North.

ONE OR A THOUSAND

Should you wish only one plant to add to your collection, or should you require a thousand or more for naturalizing we will be pleased to fill your order.

VIKING (Stout) M. 3 ft. EV. A most excellent and outstanding bright orange red. The fine dark foliage and large flower has a commanding appearance. $1.50

VIGILANTE (Russell) M. 3½ ft. EV. The 4½ inch bloom is rosy red bordering on old rose, yellow throat. 75c

WAR PATH (Russell) M. 3 ft. D. Rich bright red with satiny sheen. Has wide petals and stands hot sun well. Much admired. $1.00

WAU BUN (Stout) E. 2½ ft. EV. Large flower of cadmium yellow, faintly dusted. The gold glistening petals are slightly and distinctively twisted. Fine in every way. 50¢

WELAKA (Watkins) M. 3 ft. EV. Flower is of mandarin orange suffused with rosy fulvous tones. The flowers have a crepe-like rippled texture. (Late Spring delivery) 50c

NO. 60 M. 2½ ft. D. A seedling that has proven very popular. The medium sized flowers are dark red purple. It is a very profuse bloomer due to it's multi-flora parentage. Much liked by those who have tried it in their gardens this past season. Limited Supply. $1.00

OUR BIGGEST VALUE FOR THIS SEASON

This year again we are offering a select mixture of unnamed daylilies. These being ideal for landscaping, shrubbery borders, parks, etc.

We flower thousands of seedlings yearly. These being raised from carefully hand pollinated seeds. Of these a few are set aside for further testing. The balance being too close in color to already named varieties are sold in mixture and offer a most excellent value.

The lilies in this mixture have already bloomed for the past two to four seasons and all culls have been removed.

Do not confuse these with the small single division plants that are generally sold in bargain mixtures. Our plants are large and vigorous with strong root systems that establish quickly into showy clumps.

The color range is wide, running from shades of lemon and gold to dark reds, bicolors, etc.

We sold thousands during the past seasons to satisfied customers and we feel sure that they will please you too.

Place your order early. Shipping generally starts March 15th and continues until early in August.

Due to the heavy plants and the low prices these lilies are priced F.O.B. and are shipped express charges collect.

Your choice of either yellow, lemon, and orange shades or "all colors" mixed are as follows:

($3.50 per 25 F.O.B.)

($6.00 per 50 F.O.B.)

($11.00 per 100 F.O.B.)

GROUP PLANTING SPECIALS

Due to the high price of some scarce and choice daylilies most collectors plant these in special beds or devote an entire garden to them.

However with the advent of good varieties at moderate prices the tendency has been to plant them generously in clumps or drifts or one color.

We quote from John V. Watkins, Associate Professor of Horticulture. University of Florida.

"Daylilies are most effective when grown in clumps of three or more plants in the bays of informal shrubbery borders. Spotting a plant here, another there is usually not successful with most perennials and especially with daylilies, so clump or drift planting is thought to be best."

"If colors are grouped separately in these drifts, perhaps the best effects will be obtained. Thus, daylilies become harmonious color notes of accent in front of the deep green of the permanent shrubbery that forms the backdrop of the garden. In this method of planting the forms of order known as unity, harmony, rhythm and sequence will be served and your garden scheme will be greatly benefited."

In accordance with the above, so that you may enjoy great masses of color in your garden, we are offering a choice selection of popular varieties at very moderate prices.

We suggest the following, priced in lots of 1 doz.

PRICES

Although prices of labor, postage and materials have advanced sharply during the past year you will find our prices reasonable, in fact many have been reduced this season. Our prices are based on strong single divisions properly cut back for transplanting. All named varieties will be properly labeled.

Orders of $3.00 or more are post paid except where noted in this catalog. On orders under $3.00 please add 25¢. Kindly add 10¢ exchange on checks. Make all checks or money orders payable to RAINBOW DAYLILY GARDENS, P. O. Box 644, Leesburg, Florida.

TIME OF SHIPMENT

We start filling orders for the South early in March and continue until Dec. 1st. for Fla. planting.

For shipments to the North we advise planting no later than early in Sept. Plants should become established so that loss or injury will not result.
